PRISON WAR ENDS 3 CONVICTS SLAIN

MESS HALL BARRICADE WRECKED BY GUARDSMEN'S FIRE

FIND DEAD BODIES AFTER FOUR DAYS OF SEIGE

Beleaguered Convicts in Kentucky Penitentiary Withstand Combined Assault of Fifty National Guardsmen Until Killed.

Eddyville.—When Kentucky National Guardsmen stormed the mess hall barricade, where the three mutinous convicts had for over ninety-six hours stood off a small army, they found all three dead. The guardsmen rushed the building after it had been flooded with ammonia gas in an effort to dislodge the prisoners.

On the floor near the center of the room sprawled the bodies of Monte Walters, Lawrence Griffith and Harry Freland. Walters had been dead several days, killed by a hand gerenade. The others died of gunshot wounds.

The mess hall where the three convicts barricaded themselves last Wednesday morning after killing three prison guards in a break for liberty may have to be rebuilt. Almost continuous firing by fifty national guardsmen and a dozen prison guards has weakened its brick walls and splintered its interior.

The beleaguered convicts apparently did not give up the fight until they had exhausted all their ammunition. The three automatic pistols with which they fired on their guards last Wednesday morning were empty beside their bodies.

The room in which the men had fought their desperate battle against overwhelming odds was a wreck. Bullets from the besieging forces had splintered furniture. Bits of bread and meat scattered about the room indicated the prisoners had found time to eat despite their long fight.

Military rule at the prison was relaxed at once. The bodies were taken to a morgue. Warden John Chilton gave orders to move all prisoners back to their regular cells during the night.

NAVY AVIATOR SETS PACE FOUR MILES PER MINUTE

St. Louis Flying Field.—Traveling at 243.67 miles per hour, Lieut. A. J. Williams of the navy won the Pulitzer trophy at the international races here, and broke all speed records. Lieut. Brow was second with an average of 241.78 miles per hour, and Lieut. Sanderson, of the marines, was third and broke the world's record by making four circuits of the 50-kilometer course at the rate of 236-03 miles per hour.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffat, chief of the navy bureau of auronautics, galloped like a boy across the field to be the first to congratulate the winners.

BATTLE SHIPS TO CRUISE THE CARIBBEAN SEA IN 1924

Los Angeles.—Next year's activities of the United States fleet, now in harbor here will comprise the greatest scope undertaken since the World war. A cruise of the Caribbean sea region lasting more than three months and embracing a program of battle maneuvers, strategical problems and exercises is the principal item of the plan. More than fifteen warships will take part.

The fleet wil leave the harbor here for Panama January 4 and engage in maneauvers there before passing through the canal and touching at Porto Rico and ports in the West Indies, the Gulf and south Atlantic states.

Enlarge Mormon Temple

Salt Lake City.—Better to accommodate the thousands of Latter Day Saints who desire to enter the famous Salt Lake Temple, to perform sacred rites, approximately $100,000 is being expended by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, to enlarge the outer buildings. In tunneling for new entrances to the temple, portions of the original foundations were exposed showing that the temple builders took the precaution to make double arches of stone, the better to hold the top portion. Several prominent architects and builders have expressed amazement that such foresight was shown in the construction.

German Glider Sets Record

Berlin.—The German aviator, Botsch, of Darmstedt kept the air for more than an hour and set up a new glider record by covering almost twelve miles. Botsch kept the air without difficulty, rising and falling on the wind, circling the flying field and sweeping off on cross-country runs.

GAS TAX WILL RAISE MILLIONS FOR ROADS

State Will Collect $28,000,000 During Next Two and a Half Years.—Automobile Registration Fees Will Increase That Total.

Sacramento.—The state's new gasoline tax of 2 cents per gallon will add revenues to the state approximately $28,000,000 during the remainder of this year and during the following two years of 1924 and 1925. Automobile registration fees and weight taxes on trucks, collected during 1924 and 1925, will increase this figure to approximately $37,000,000.

According to estimates, the present unprecedented increase in automobile registrations, if it continues during the next two years makes it probable that the total amount of revenue from the gasoline tax, registration fees and weight taxes may exceed $40,000,000.

The association estimates the gasoline tax will bring the state over $3,500,000 during the remainder of this year. Based on an estimate of a total vehicle registration of $1,100,000 for 1924, and 1,220,000 for 1925, it is figured that gasoline consumption for taxable uses during these two years will total approximately 1,150,000,000 gallons. This means a revenue of $23,000,000 from the gasoline tax.

It is estimated that motor vehicle registration fees at $3 per vehicle and trailer registration fees during these two years will amount to $6,000,600. Weight taxes on trucks are counted upon to increase the revenues by $2,270.000.

The following table shows the estimates of the amount of revenue from various sources based on a total registration of 1,000,000 for 1923, 1,100,000 for 1924 and 1,220,000 for 1925.

1923—
Gasoline Tax, three months	$ 3,500,000	$ 3,500,000
1924—
Registration Fees	$ 3,300,000
Gasoline Tax	11,000,000
Weight Taxes	1,530,000
		$15,830,000
1925—
Registration Fees	$ 3,660,000
Gasoline Tax	12,000,000
Weight Taxes	1,740,000
		$17,400,000
Grand Total		$36,730,000

Empress Zita Ambitious

Paris.—Empress Zita, widow of the former Emperor Karl of Austria-Hungary, has secretly left her place of residence at San Sebastian and departed for Munich, where she hopes to enlist the aid of Crown Prince Rupprecht in placing her eldest son, Otto, on the Hungarian throne.

Long Beach.—The plant of the Toasted Products Company was destroyed by a fire of undetermined origin. The loss is estimated at $115,000.

Yosemite Drew 130,046

Washington.—Attendance of 130,046 visitors at Yosemite park during the summer was the third largest in the chain of national parks, and was a gain of nearly 30,000 over last year. Rocky Mountain ranks first this year, with 218,000, a reduction of 1,000 from last year. The attendance at Lassen dropped from 10,000 to 9,500 in 1923. There also was a reduction in General Grant, which is credited with 46,230 in comparison with 50,456 in 1922. Sequoia jumped from 27,514 to 30,158.

Charlie, the noted elephant of the movies, was executed at Los Angeles because he had become unmanageable. He was 189 years old and had spent twenty-five years in circuses and film studios in this country. The University of California will preserve the beast's heart for experimentation.

The Mammoth Copper Company's smelter in Shasta county, closed since May, 1919, is almost ready to begin operation, with between 250 and 300 men now employed in the work of repairing and putting the transportation system in shape. Ore extraction has already been resumed in a small w

State Sup't Wood would have a law enacted to pay the total cost of school books out of the corporation tax, and in a statement said that he would father a movement before the next legislature to have such a law passed, so as to provide sufficient funds to supply all elementary school text books. The slash in the text book budget has compelled local communities to furnish a portion of such supplies.

Impressive and picturesque ceremonies were conducted by California Grand Lodge of Masons at the laying of the cornerstone of the office building of the capitol extension project. Grand Master William A. Sherman, assisted by the Sacramento Masonic bodies, conducted the ceremonies. Governor Richardson was prevented from being present by reason of his recent illness.

Much ceremony and a long program marked the opening of the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles, which is the last addition to a chain of smart hostelries.

CALIFORNIA NEWS BRIEFS

The August summary of conditions in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District gives the following: Prices of farm products, which have been declining during recent months, advanced during August. The majority of the principal agricultural products of this district, including barley, rice, cotton, sugar, cattle, sheep, lambs and hogs, are now selling at prices well above those of a year ago. Wheat prices at central markets have fluctuated about $1 per bushel, but have remained above low levels reached during July.

Attorneys and life insurance agents are agreed that if Alex Kels pays with his life for the murder of the unidentified man at his Lodi ranch, the insurance companies carrying his risks will have to pay their respective amounts to the widow. In nearly every instance where similar cases have come to settlement, courts have ruled in favor of the beneficiary. Almost the only exception has been where the beneficiary was proven to be an accomplise in the crime for which the insured was executed.

California's Basic wealth survey shows that the individual resident in this state is richer than the dweller of any other state in the union. Federal taxes of all kinds in California netted $131,653,000, which is a half a million more than was collected from the other twelve western states, Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines and the eastern states of Delaware, Vermont and New Hampshire. California leads all states in the amount of individual savings in banks.

Gabriel Alphonse Mourey, notorious San Francisco bandit, for whose capture $20,000 was offered for the theft of $90,000 worth of Shattuck jewels in New York in 1922, was shot and killed by Paris police. Detective Sergent Frank McGrayan of San Francisco trailed Mourey through Europe, Mexico and the United States in an unsuccessful effort to capture him

State Surveyer Kingsbury, whose duties include preparing the rules governing Indian reservations, declares that the tribes in Modoc, Lassen and Plumas county, who have taken up their abode on the 1,400-acre reservation set aside by the last legislature, will be allowed free conduct of the reservation without a mass of regulations from the state.

There is reported considerable sentiment in regard to oil development near Orange and property owners are in favor of drilling on vacant lots near the outskirts of the city. It is said the Orange council is in favor of any reasonable program that will aid oil development in the vicinity, which will not injure property values within the city limits.

From Colusa comes the story that Harry Lamar, an indigent who died recently in the Colusa county hospital, was the son of Lucius Quintius Curtiss Lamar, famous Confederate lieutenant-general, who was later a senator from Mississippi, secretary of the interior of the Cleveland cabinet, and at the time of his death a justice of the Supreme court.

The death of James Colvin, Los Angeles mining engineer, three months ago, has brought forward two women, each claiming to be his wife and desiring his estate. Although both had lived in that city for ten years, neither had heard of the other and each declared the deceased a model husband, though frequently away from home on mine inspection.

The executors of the estate of the late Frank G. Drum have applied to the state railway commission for permission to sell to the Southern Pacific company the Chowchilla Pacific Railroad, which consists of ten miles of track extending from Chowchilla to Dairyland, Madera county, and is the property of the deceased.

Federal authorities have begun a drive in the southern part of the state to clean out "wildcat" oil promoters. Charges of misuse of the mails were made in the arrest there of Wyatt Nix of Texas, who, inspectors declare, has sold a quarter of a million dollars in worthless units in Stevens county, Tex., land.

Attorney General Webb has been appealed to by A. W. Morgue, Durham high school trustee, to expedite the prosecution of five high school boys, who he charges, kidnaped him on the eve of a high school bond election. Morgue opposed the issuance of bonds and says he was forcibly taken into Glenn county.

Pier No. 1 of the $4,000,000 bridge to span the Carquinez strait, was formally anchored, Sept. 29. Pier No. 1 is the first of the five which will support the 3,300-foot span across the strait. Estimates of the chief consulting engineer place the opening of the structure for traffic in July, 1925.

HISTORY OF CAMPBELL LIBRARY

The following history of the growth of the Campbell Library for which this community feels so proud, and justly so, was given by Mrs. Lillie F. Shaw, secretary of the library board for a number of years.

When the history of Campbell shall come to be written for the enlightenment of future generations, no figure in the picture will stand out in bolder relief among those who labored for the upbuilding of the community, than that of the first librarian of the Campbell Free Library, Prof. Elijah Janes.

For over twenty years, summer and winter, without compensation other than his own pleasure in the work, in pleasant weather or in pouring rain, he traversed the mile between his home and the village center, to open the library, and place the books that he loved, and that had been gathered together under his care and largely by his efforts, in the hands of the reading people of Campbell.

The Campbell Free Library had its beginning nearly thirty years ago, when the late Judge Myrick, making his summer home on his ranch west of Campbell, offered through Dr. C. N. Cooper, to give fifty dollars to help start a library at Campbell, providing the people would show enough interest in the matter to give another fifty.

The people of Campbell, though the merest handful at that time, were of the sort to appreciate such an offer; and with Prof. Janes to further the plan and lend his experience and aid, the library was begun, books as well as money being donated for the purpose. The books at first were kept in the small building used for a school room, opposite where the Congregational church now stands. (This school, by the way, was the town's first effort toward a high school, organized to supplement the work of the grade schools and supported by subscription.)

The little library was opened for the exchange of books every Monday evening, and to add to the interest, Prof. Janes prepared a series of lectures, or talks, on various subjects, historical, political and economic. A group of interested men and women, (mostly men), would gather every week to hear these talks, and take part in the discussion that followed. The library was thus kept in the minds of a faithful body of supporters, few in number but loyal to the work.

Membership in the Library Association, with the use of the books, cost one dollar per year, but Prof. Janes dearest wish was that the books might be in use, and it was at his earnest solicitation that the library was soon made free for all, the loyal frineds still continuing their annual dues, with occasional donations and gifts, as need arose, or a lecture or entertainment was given to aid the cause. At this time the books, increasing slowly by careful selection, were housed without charge in the parlors of the Congregational church, new book cases being built by the librarian whenever need of more shelf room arose. But the room that the church could spare was limited, and the library was often mistaken for a denominational one. With all this, a reading room was greatly needed, and more books for the library and more room for the books already had, were subjects of frequent discussion.

But no definite work to further the cause was made until the organization of the Country Woman's Club in 1905. "To promote the growth of the Campbell Free Library," was one of the objects for which the club was incorporated and around which the activities of the Club have been centered. The purchase of a lot for a future building, the building and equipping of the little reading room, were all results of much pleasurable effort by this club. The new library rests upon the foundation of these early efforts I cannot close without a word of appreciation of the work of our second librarian, brave Mary Lewis, whose helpful service left its impress on many lives that came in touch with her through her work in the library. And so as a few years ago we placed stars on our war banners in memory of our boys over there, I wish to place on memory's banner golden stars in honor of those who worked nobly and well, but who are not here tonight to celebrate with us the fruition of our hopes.

The rural carriers of this district will meet in Campbell Sunday, October 14.

CAMPBELL LIBRARY DEDECATED WITH BEFITTING CEREMONIES

Tribute Paid Pioneer Supporters, Thanks Extended Present Co-operators

Thursday last witnessed the culmination of the plans and efforts of many years when the new library was opened to the public.

In the afternoon there was a simple reception at which the members of the Coutry Woman's Club served as hostesses in showing the many visitors around the rooms and explaining the different features. In both the library and social rooms the natural beauty had been increased by artistically arranged baskets of dahlias, cosmos and zinnias.

The shelves of the library were well filled with books belonging to the Campbell Free Library, all recatalogued, and a large consignment from the county Library. On the reading tables, numbers of these were temptingly displayed, inviting one to sit down and enjoy them.

In a previous article we have given detailed descriptions of most of the building, but the kitchen and the charmingly appointed ladies rest rooms were merely touched upon. The furnishings of the latter were the gift of the Pundita Circle and were largely the work of their own hands.

This is the only place where brilliant coloring appears to any extent, and here the hues are only brighter tones of the colors of the lamp shades and the hangings. The wicker couch, table and chairs are enameled a gray green with a touch of orange, and the cushions and curtains are of bright blue, orange, burgundy and black. The floor rug is of dark blue combined with black and orange.

The kitchen is another delightful spot, done in white enamel and delft blue, with blue net curtains. It is completely supplied with cupboards, gas range and hot water heater. There are generous numbers of dishes in blue and white, with a punch bowl and glasses. Other necessary equipment will be supplied from time to time so that the serving of refreshments for social affairs will be an easy matter.

A short program was presented in the evening which was attended by more than a capacity audience. Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, president of the Country Woman's Club, presided. Mrs. Kennedy has been unceasing and untiring in the work of inaugurating and pushing to completion this undertaking. She has given countless hours of time, days and nights of thought to planning and consulting with, and being consulted by, various committees, and at the last in actual physical labor.

In the few words in which she reviewed the past years work and the remarkable co-operation of the community in making possible such a fine building, she gave great credit to the committees upon hose faithful services the success of the undertaking had rested. Of these, the finance and building committee were of major importance and they had accomplished the seemingly impossible.

A quartette of ladies from the Club, Mesdames R. H. Hyde, W. S. Shelly, D. H. Cramer and L. J. Carboni, sang very pleasingly, "I Would that My Love," by Mendelsohn, and "My Boat Is Waiting Here,", Smart, being accompanied by Mrs. G. S. Robson.

Mrs. Lillie F. Shaw, who has been historical custodian for the club and the Campbell Library Association presented the salient facts in the history of the library in a short paper titled, "A Look Backward," which we are publishing for the benefit of the many interested who could not be present. She paid deserved tribute to the work of Prof. Elijah Janes who served so many years as librarian.

"The Business Man's Viewpoint" was well presented by Mr. C. H. Whitman, one of the faithful supporters of the library during all of its history. He spoke most feelingly of the tender memories and associations centered about the "little old building" which has been the library "home" for many years. If the influences spreading from the new one are proportionately great, its benefits will be far reaching indeed. He concluded by quoting the following from "Lines For a Friend's House,' by Edgar Guest.

God bless this house and all within it.
God bless this house and those who love it.
God bless the house and those who keep it.
In the sweet oils of gladness steep it.
Endow these walls with lasting wealth,
The light of love, the glow of health,
The palm of peace, the charm of mirth
And good friends sit around the hearth.

A glimpse or prophecy for the future was the theme of a short talk, given by Mrs. Ida Price, the first president of the club. It was an intimate little talk, whimsically humorous, of her youthful experiences with the family library, and what can be found in books.

"May this be a home presided over by hospitality and freedom", was her expressed wish.

The county librarian, Miss Stella Huntington, who has done so much to help the Campbell Branch both in the past and during the preparation and installation of the books in their new abode, congratulated the community upon its achievement.

A very fitting dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. F. C. Farr and the program was concluded with a group of songs by Miss Helen Kalas, accompanied by Miss Bozena Kalas. They were: "Were My Song with Wings Provided," by Hahn; "Expectancy," by La Forge and "Lift Up Thine Eyes" by Logan.

A general inspection followed and numbers lingered to really realize that their long cherished dream was at last a reality.

The desk used by the librarian has a historical interest. This was the service counter used in the Santa Clara county exhibt at the 1915 Expostion, over which those delicious prunes were passed to the thousands of visitors who admired the wonderful show.

GREASE UP

R. Wayne Sanders, "the original greasing kid," who has for several years been the popular right-hand-man for one of the big San Jose garages, has greased his skids and slid out for himself. He has opened a new departure shop at 460 South First where he washes and greases your car in an expert manner while you do your shopping. In fact Wayne is an expert crank case man when it comes to the grease pot. By last reports he was so busy that he had hardly time to eat.

TENACITY

by Grace E. Hall

So long as mind holds fast you shall not fail,
Though great the task and seemingly hard-pressed
You stagger 'neath the weight; but once you quail
In thought, and all your strength can never wrest
A victory from the struggle, for your force
Comes through your mental grip—no other source.

This simple fact explains why some men win
While others lag and lose at last the game:
One draws the final ounce of power within,
Through dogged perseverance, and his fame
Is not so much a gift above the rest,
As 'tis the drive of faculties possessed.

Hold! Though the storms of life may madly surge,
Though thunders crash and all about you fall
The victims of the gale; still firmly urge
To use your mental force, and over all
You shall prevail; that is your secret power,
And destinies are shaped by it each hour.

THE REAL GENTLEMAN

A gentleman is one who tries
By gracious looks and earnest speech
To win his Brother's love; and rise
In his esteem; his heart to reach,
The noblest service here on earth
Comes not by accident of name
Which men associate with birth
Or wealth, or looks, or borrowed fame.
True men are great in thought and deed
Who, though in humble garments clad,
Show kindness to the souls in need,
And help their fellows to be glad.
Extremes in clothing here repel
Because they savor oft of pride.
The common men whose deeds excel,
Like magnets, draw us to their side.
The royal road to human hearts
Is found in winning words and smiles;
For he who walks in love imparts
A glory to the passing miles.
Oh Brother man, cease not to be
A sympathetic, faithful friend;
Then pleasures true shall go with thee,
And crown thee to thy journey's end.
The Master Man whom we adore,
Came down to earth to bless Mankind,
Our lost ideals to restore—
Our better selves to always find.
A Brother, Friend, a Gentleman
Whom we must daily imitate
If we would love, and work, and plan
Like Him to be—forever great.

MOTORS COLLIDE

A motor smash occurred on the street Monday afternoon which might have resulted more seriously. Two high school boys, Hillis Ashworth and Arthur Dunn, on a motorcycle, crashed into the auto of W. B. George damaging both machines and bruising up the boys somewhat.

In attempting to miss Frances Nunes who dashed across the street on his bicycle they veered to the left knocking him from his bike with practically no injury. The control of the motor cycle was thus lost and the machine plunged to the side of the street to collide with the auto.

There is altogether too much playing about the streets on bikes by the small boys and Francis Nunes is a lucky one to escape unhurt. May others take a lesson from this and look before crossing a street with or without his wheel.

4-POINT SYSTEM

A new system for regulating the various athletic teams of the P. A. L. has been recently inaugurated. It is called the four point system, since it brings into consideration the average taken from the height, weight, age and year in school of every boy. It is a great improvement, especially where there are quite a number of boys, because although it requires more teams, the players must average together better.

This system helps out the younger fellows who are growing fast, but it is not any special benefit to a boy who is small for his age.

Mrs. Mary Brown was the happy victim of a surprise party Saturday evening when her children gathered in honor of her birthday anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Merrill, Mrs. M. McCaughey, and daughter, Miss Alice, Ralph Brown and family, Mrs. Nina Brown Parker, of San Jose, Lee Bollinger and daughters of Watsonville, and Clarence Brown, Campbell.

FINE SCHOOL GYM

The new high gym is about completed and the school is looking anxiously forward to the time when the first game of basket ball is played there. There are two dressing departments, for boys upstairs and girls on the main floor. In each department is the directors room where supples and equipment are kept.

The girls have ten showers with a dressing room at either side while the boys ten showers are in one large bathroom.

With the new gym to train in, our athletic teams should be supported by 100 per cent school spirit, the kind that keeps the players up to the scratch.

Town Tales Tersely Told

F. V. Perrott is out again after a long and severe siege of tonsilitis and quinsy.

Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Merrill, motored to San Francisco Tuesday on medical business.

C. G. Kennedy accompanied John Lund on his trip to Williams, where he plans to do some duck hunting.

Mrs. Huldah Parker was one of the attendants at the Congregational conference at Asilomar, going over Friday.

Miss C. T. Williams who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Williams spent Wednesday in San Francisco.

The Congregational Guild is meeting regularly for sewing of various kinds in preparation for the bazaar which will be held n late November.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Archibald and son, Winfield went to Seabright Saturday, where Mrs. Archibald and Winfield will remain for two weeks or more.

F. A. Binkard who suffered a severe injury to one of his limbs several years ago has been suffering from a recurrence of the trouble so that he was confined to the house for several days.

The College of Pacific football team, of which Erwin Righter is Coach, will meet the Sacramento Junior College eleven at Pacific Field, College Park, Saturday, October 13, beginning at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

F. A. Merrill, father of Dr. W. I. Merrill, is quite ill at his home on Central Avenue, being confined to his bed most of the day. It is hoped that he may recover sufficiently ere long to be seen about our streets again.

Mrs. Gudgel, a former resident of Campbell, now living in San Francisco, was the guest last week of Mrs. R. E. Dunphy and Mrs. I. Zion. Mrs. Dunphy also entertained her son, Nicholas, and friends, over Sunday.

Miss Bozena Kalas will play a group of piano solos Thursday evening, October 18, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, from Hales K. P. O. broadcasting station. The entire program for that evening will be provided by the San Jose Chamber of Commenrce.

C. E. DeSelle has severed his connections with the G. E. Hyde Co. this week. This is the second real holiday in sixteen years when he has been away from the grind. As yet he has not signed up to run any cannery next season but will have little trouble when he casts about for the job, as his experience is quite extensive.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Inman was the scene of a happy family gathering Saturday evening in celebration of their son Claude's birthday. A picnic at Alum Rock Park had been planned but the inclement weather prevented so an indoor party was in order. The company included the Claude Inman, F. B. Billings, and Vaugh Lloyd families.

Mrs. Bertha Janes Lopes, was here for the dedication of the new library. Mrs. Lopes, daughter of the late Elijah Janes, was a member of the Country Woman's Club and occasionally participates in its meetings still. She and her mother were both earnest workers in the club and she feels an additional interest in the library which her father served so long.

FATHERS GUESTS

The Home and School Club is conducting a paper drive this and next week. If any one hasr papers or magazines which no one has called for and has no means of getting them to the home of Mrs. S. N. Hedegard, they will be called for if Mrs. Hedegard is notified. Phone Campbell 27W.

The evening of Friday, Oct. 26, has been set by the Home and School Club for the first Fathers' Night. Further notice will be given later but parents of grammar school children are asked to reserve that evening for this meeting.

CLUB TO LAY LIBRARY HEARTH STONE

It was with added zest and pleasure that the Country Woman's Club met for the first time Monday in the social room of the Library and began the study of "China."

The subject for the day was the "Outline of Chinese History from Earliest Civilization to the Manchu Dynasty, 1644" and was presented by Mrs. D. H. Cramer, Mrs. R. H. Hyde and Mrs. L. Shelley.

Mrs. Hyde took the first period from earliest times to the birth of Christ and presented a most interesting and enjoyable review of that time. The second period was given by Mrs. Shelley, which was also very interesting and she also showed a number of pictures of renowned places.

Mrs. Cramer's share of the program was devoted to the llusi gram was devoted to an illustrated resume of the promnient geographical features of the country and some of the interesting history of the Great Wall of China. Many quaint legends and folk lore were interwoven thruout the entire program so that interest never lagged.

The song, "The Merry Heart", by Denza was then given by the same quartet that sang on the opening evening.

The matter of laying a cornerstone had been discussed last year but t was waived in favor of a "hearth stone" ceremony. Mrs. Shaw had charge of the box and contents to be placed beneath the bricks of the fireplace and she named the things included; the history which had been read previously; copies of the Campbell Press in which the Library and its opening are described; the Mercury-Herald of Sunday; a list of the contributors to the building fund; pictures of the building; and a list of members of the Country Woman's Club.

Mrs. Ellen R. Smith spoke briefly on the accomplishment of this long planned for enterprise, but referred feelingly to the happy times and memories connected with the old building. Mrs. Kennedy read a little verse which Mrs. Carboni had brought as a very appropriate closing to the simple ceremonies, after which the bricks were replaced.

Bless the Four Corners of this House
And bless the Lintel blest;
And bless the Hearth, and bless the Board,
And bless each place of Rest;
And bless the Door that opens wide
To strangers as to kin;
And bless each crystal Windowpane
That lets the Starlight in;
And bless the Rooftree overhead
And every sturdy Wall;
The Peace of Man, the Peace of God,
The Peace of Love on all!

STOP THIS SORT

There is a time for seriousness as well as a time for play and the sooner some young folks find it out the better for them and all concerned.

At the new library opening last week some boys thought to play a joke by putting out the lights in the social room. During the darkness some of the boys were moving about the building in a rather suspicious looking manner. It was hinted that back of the idea lay a real purpose and in the future these boys will be watched more closely to prevent any of their supposed plans being carried out.

It shows a decided disregard of principal and public sentiment when such pranks are played and there is a proper way to handle just such cases.

The quarterly meeting and preparatory service of the Congregational church will be held in the church parlors this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The celebration of the Lord's Supper will occur at the close of the morning service next Sunday.

Sunday evening the sermon will be on "John Bunyon, the Divine Dreamer," illustrated with crystal colored slides.

PRUNE CROP GIVEN 150 MILLION POUNDS

General Manager A. M. Mortensen of the Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, in his latest estimates of the prune crop says:

"Latest estimates of production of prunes are for a crop in California of 150,000,000 pounds, or a reduction under the figures published a few weeks ago. There is also a decline in the gradings as to the large sizes amounting to about 10 points. The quality of the crop, unfortunately, is not as good as last year. There are quite a few splits, sunburn and thrip damaged prunes. The carryover has been cut to 19,000,000 pounds, and I think that during my stay in New York we will be able to market a large part of our holdings in the Brooklyn plant, which will be closed by January 1. The foreign demand for prunes is heavier now than in some little time. As to apricots, there has been delivered to the association about 23,000,000, with 4,000,000 or 5,000,000 still to come, indicating a total crop of 40,000,000. The carryover has been practically cleaned up."

Europe Now Wants Not Judicial Intervention but Partisan Intervention

By REPRESENTATIVE T. E. BURTON, of Ohio.

AM I an optimist in world politics? No—and yes. I am sure many grave difficulties must be overcome before we can have international confidence and peace. Europe is in a deplorable condition. Doubtless it yearns for a settled political and social order as ardently as any people can; doubtless its public thought and purpose are moving on as high a plane as the circumstances make possible, but it is full of trouble, and its every path toward general accommodation seems blocked. Its diversities are indescribable, its suspicions obstinate, its antipathies almost fathomless. One scarcely can descry a clear European horizon; in every direction are massed clouds and ceaseless lightning play.

Think of Europe's innumerable and fixed segregations. Physically and psychologically it has memories of nothing but segregation. Mountains, rivers and seas fight against peace in Europe. They keep peoples apart. They perpetuate hatreds. In their work of prolonging human division they are aided by differing degrees of civilization, by antagonistic racial impulses, by discordant religions and by a babel of tongues. Add to these physical and mental barriers and disparities the numberless intractabilities common to all human nature and you have a problem that well may dishearten the most hopeful and resolute of statesmen.

But the situation cannot rest here. Humanity must advance. Evolution will not be denied. Intellectual and moral forces are gathering strength, peoples are traveling, frontiers are wearing down, education is spreading, international understanding, though slow-paced, is on the march.

Europe just now does not want judicial intervention; it wants partisan intervention. Each of the giant protagonists looks to us, not for disinterested guidance, but for helpful sympathy with itself. We cannot take sides among these contestants. It would be necessary for us to oppose somebody, and whomsoever we opposed we should offend. In all likelihood we merely should add another element to the welter of jarring judgments and embittered emotions. Possibly the conditions will change and offer us an opening for useful mediation or aid. Our most responsible public men at Washington are on the bridge, so to speak, for such a sign.

WORLD'S GREATEST BANKING SYSTEM

By CRAIG B. HAZLEWOOD
President Association of Reserve City Bankers

C. B. Hazlewood

Conceived in the spirit of common good, for the best interests of government, banks and public alike, based on broad and correct principles relating to the nation's currency and credit, the Federal Reserve System represents the greatest piece of economic legislation enacted by an American Congress. The System's record of achievement through a world war, an inflation period of dizzy heights, and months of serious and costly liquidation. It is a matter of greatest importance that very earnest and patriotic thought be given to the two questions: How far has the system succeeded, and in what particulars has it failed, to give our country as strong and as useful a financial system as human mind can devise?

The hope and expectation of those who framed the Federal Reserve Act that the machinery set-up for the origination, distribution and automatic retirement of currency issue, which should be entirely responsive to the needs of trade and the varying conditions of business, have been wonderfully well realized. Every possible effort must be exerted to preserve the Federal Reserve System from political alliance and to keep its powerful influence entirely devoted to the building up of the greatest banking system in the world.

The first bank of the United States was established in 1791 and failed to obtain a renewal of its charter in 1811, the opponents charging that the bank was a "money trust" controlled by foreigners, a tool in the hands of the Federalists, and that the act chartering the bank was unconstitutional. Note the use of the words "money trust." We have the idea that this is a modern term. The suspicions which animate the demagogue today have not changed in a century.

The second bank of the United States was chartered in 1816 and failed to obtain a renewal of its charter in 1831, the reasons being a widespread belief that the bank was unconstitutional, the hostility of the states, the opposition of the state banks, the rise of democracy, and the envy and hatred which the poor always feel toward the rich.

Both banks functioned well and accomplished much for the country during crucial times. The downfall of both was caused simply and solely by attempts to place the determination of banking policies in the hands of political authorities.

The delicate handling of currency and credit, to the high end that the best interests of all may be served with special privilege to none, cannot be left to others than those who are competent through proven judgment and experience. The danger of politics in the Federal Reserve System is a real one; upon us is placed the grave responsibility of forever keeping the great system clean.

MAKING CAPITALISTS OUT OF WORKMEN

Festus J. Wade Says Anarchy Disappears With the Development of Thrift.

When the savings pass-book comes into a man's life to stay the red flag goes out. What the country needs is to bring about a condition whereby the man who works with his hands shall take the same interest in his affairs as the capitalist does in his. Probably the best way to do this would be to turn the workman into a capitalist. And this is exactly what he becomes when he saves his money and builds up a reserve fund. He remains a capitalist as long as he holds on to that money. The satisfaction of seeing his money reserve mount up will discourage the waster to take a layoff now and then. It will encourage him to work a full six-day week and thereby increase the labor hours applied to production.

The American people can solve any problem they set themselves to. We provided for a sound currency when the greenbackers and inflationists were routed and the gold basis established. The Federal Reserve Bank was established and solved a problem for which most people thought there was no solution. A number of years ago, when there was a crisis or when a bank failed, we all used to shut up our vaults tight and let nothing get out. Instead of bettering conditions we made them worse. Now if failures occur few people, except those directly interested, are disturbed.

Perhaps the most important problem of all right now is to do away with labor waste. It never can be done by preaching, by agitatian or by force. It can be done by selling the workman on the idea of becoming a capitalist. This can be brought about by the right kind of bank advertising. Who is there to say that an advertising dollar bringing about this result would not be a constructive dollar?—Festus J. Wade.

Don't Let a Low Price Keep You From Using The Best

We do not have to pay long-haul transportation and high merchandising costs to make Zerolene available. All that you spend for Zerolene goes to buy high quality only.

Zerolene forms less carbon than any other motor oil known to us. As a result, the Zerolene-lubricated car may be driven from 25% to 50% farther without having the valves ground or the cylinders rebored.

Because Zerolene gives better lubrication continuously, it reduces wear to a minimum and permits the delivery of more engine power to the wheels on the ground, giving you more mileage from your gasoline.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less.
